

Laboratory of Drosophila Research
The Chinese University of Hong Kong
5th Anniversary 2002-2007

Being the Head of LDR, Edwin is among the most efficient and hard-working scientists whom I have come across. His heart for teaching and publication is genuinely strong, a fact that I can witness during my time at the LDR. Originally planning to stay for two months there, I ended up spending more than a year part-time to study the DBE protein from a novel protein family. Initial successes and without doubt, Edwin's support on research spending and enthusiasm are instrumental to my completion of a work stage in his research programme. My LDR experience was an excellent one. As the lab celebrates its 5th anniversary, I wish the LDR every success: fruitful results & a flying future!
